

Special Interest

Storytelling

Childrens storytelling in French. Phillippe and Vincent will be reading from a selection of French books that will be on sale. A good Christmas opportunity for the French speaking community.

Saturday 27th 12:30 - 13:30 Foyer area.

Introducing Carla Sassi

Carla Sassi is the visiting professor of literature from Verona university and will be based at Glasgow University for the next six months. Her talk will highlight the influences that Scottish literature has had abroad.

Friday 26th 16:30 - 7:00 Film & Lecture Theatre.

Music Evening

The book fair will end with a shindig with opportunities for jam sessions and will include live music from The Fortunate Sons and The Nectarines.

The Fortunate Sons

Schoolmates and founding members Sam West and Calum McCann chose to bring in long term session bassist Cameron Maxwell full time, and together they found drummer Gary Johnston from the London recording scene. Fans were enraptured by the band's exhilarated performance and renewed vitality on stage. The Fortunate Sons were rocking. Read more:

<http://www.myspace.com/fsons#ixzz13Y07HYDR>

The Nectarines

The late 80's early 90's brought saw a resurgence in American music in the form of "new country" and Glasgow's answer was Peach County who, to the dismay of their growing fan base disappeared off the scene just before the genre established itself in the mainstream. Most of the band are back together now and trading as The Nectarines with a lively blend of country, folk and rock 'n' roll with a Scottish twist.

Saturday 27th 18:00 onwards Cafe area.

Ticket Information

Ticket prices £5 per day or £8 for the weekend. Tickets for the event can be booked through the CCA ticket centre on details below.

For more information contact:

Centre for Contemporary Art

350 Sauchiehall Street

Glasgow G2 3JD

Tel: 0141 352 4900

Fax: 0141 332 3226

gen@cca-glasgow.com

Scotland in Europe

The Portal

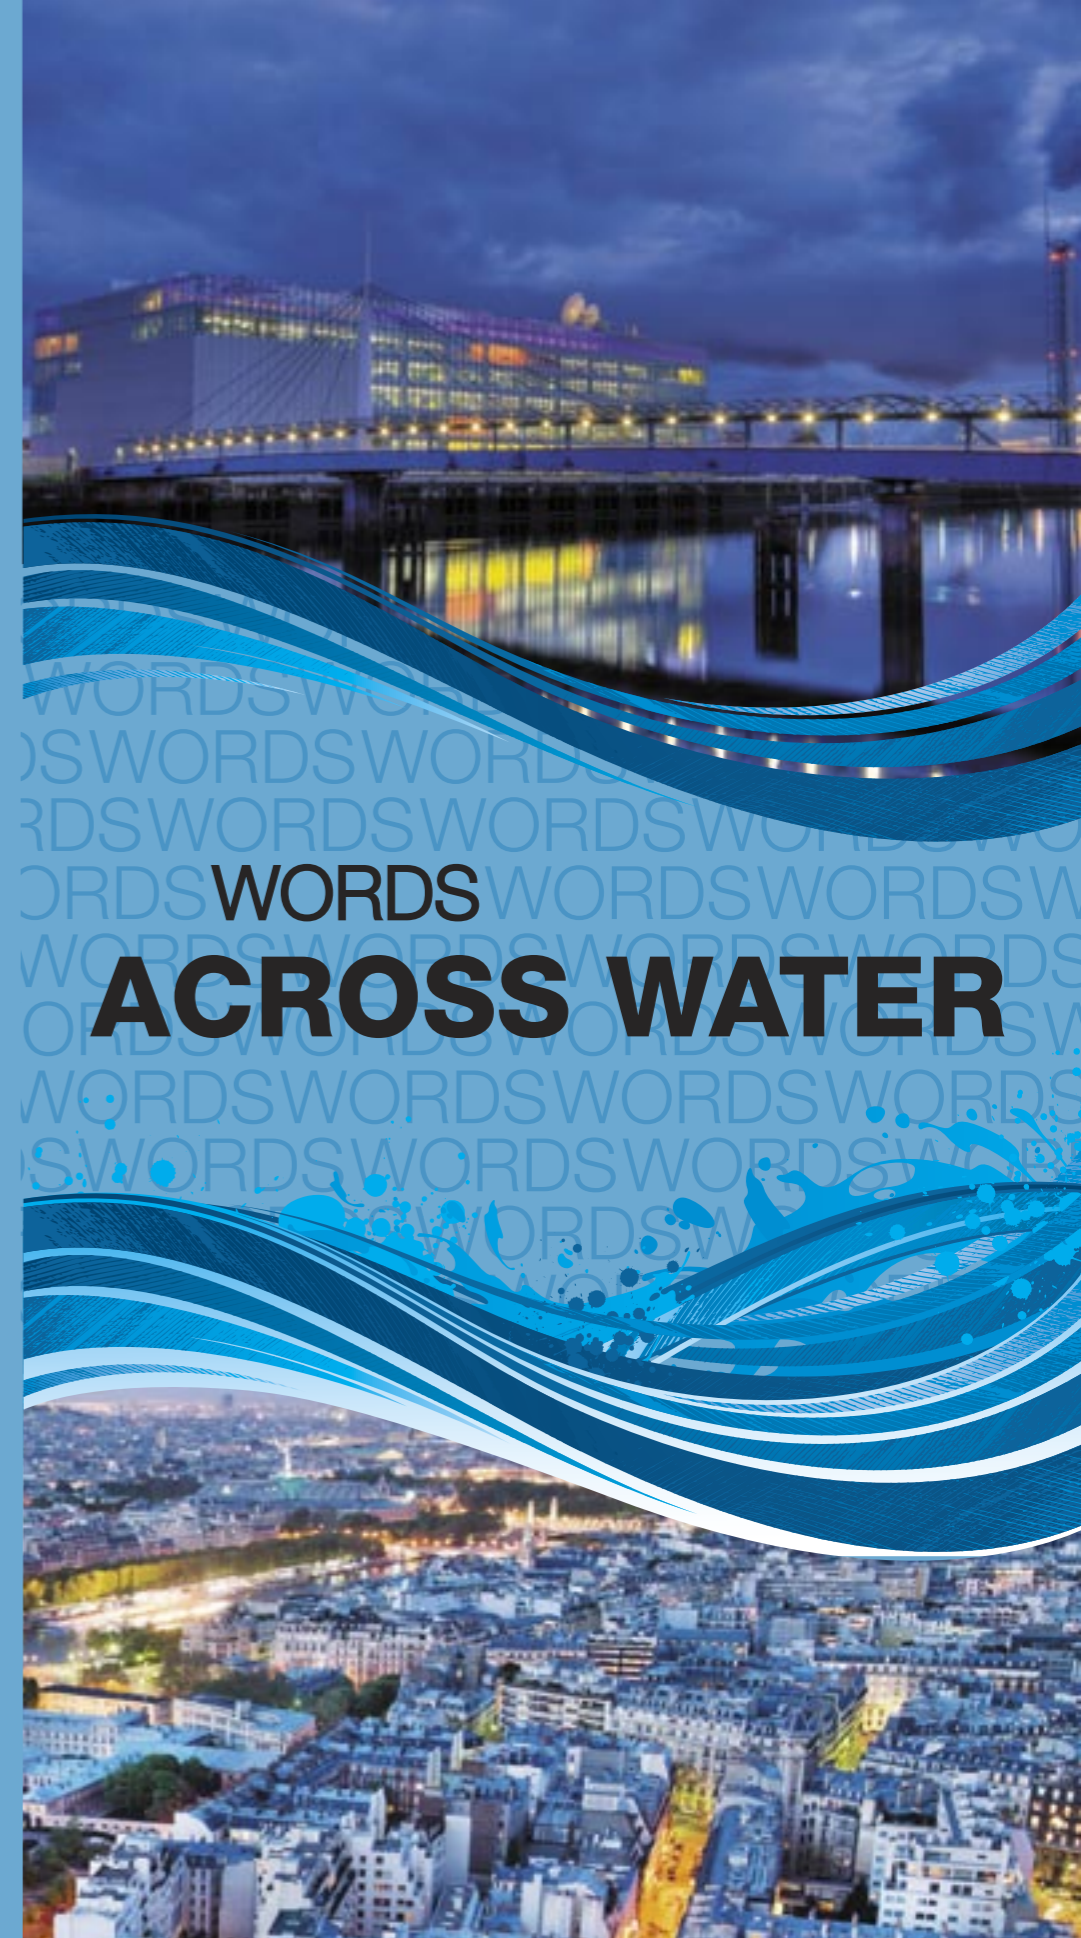

966 Govan Road

Glasgow G51 3AJ

Tel: 0141 440 2233

info@scotlandineurope.org

www.ecrudesign.com

Scottish / French Book Fair
25th, 26th & 27th November 2010
CCA Glasgow

Thursday 25th November

...in the FOYER

Book Fair Launch!

Scotland in Europe and centre Halle Saint Pierre Paris have great pleasure in presenting a taste of international outsider and contemporary art, through film and literature, during the Scottish / French Book Fair being held at the Centre for Contemporary Art in Glasgow from Thursday 25th - Saturday 27th November. All welcome.

Films will include 'Chemo' directed by Antoine de Maximy and four short films by director Jean Michel Zazzi.

There will be poetry readings from a selection of poems written by Jean L'Anselme and poems by Nicolas Dieterle.

Poems will be performed by Philippe Muller and Vincent Vernillat, two established French actors who will attend the Book Fair.

NOT TO BE MISSED!

Books for Sale

In the Foyer throughout the book fair there will be a collection of French and Scottish books for sale from 10:00 - 17:00.

Friday 26th November

...in the FILM AND LECTURE THEATRE

Art Extraordinaire 14:00 - 14:30

"Chemo" a fantastic film about outsider art - directed by Antoine de Maximy.

"Francis Marshall" "Arthur Vanabelle" "Poétique mécanique manège de Petit Pierre et la Fabuloserie" and "le jardin de Bepi, Joseph Donadello" - directed by Jean Michel Zazzi.

...and others short films in English of different outsider artists from all over the world (Canada and Japan) ABCD Collection.

Philippe Muller and Vincent Vernillat 14:30 - 15:00

Readings of some letters gathered in "Hippobosque au bocage" by Gaston Chaissac Gallimard editions.

Readings of Poems written by Jean L'Anselme " Con comme la lune", " La chasse d'eau", " le Ris de veau". Rougerie Editions.

Metaphrog 15:00 - 15:30

Metaphrog are Sandra Marrs and John Chalmers, creators of the multiple award nominee and acclaimed Louis graphic Novels. In an illustrated talk about their new book, Louis - Night Salad.

Alasdair Grey 15:30 - 16:00

Readings from Alasdair Grey who has an impressive record in the world of Literature. Since the arrival of his first novel 'Lanark' in 1981 he has been recognised as an important and accomplished writer by the literary world.

Lorraine Jenkins 16:00 - 16:10

Lorraine McGuire is a happy member of the all female Clydebuilt 2 group. She is currently writing and gathering poems together for her first collection inspired by the characters she sees everyday in her home city of Glasgow - Rich Pickings

Christie Williamson 16:10 - 16:20

Christie Williamson spent his earliest years in Yell, the second largest island in Shetland. He now lives in Glasgow. Christie's poetry has been published in various magazines including the 'New Shetlander' and 'Lallans'.

Nuala Watt 16:20 - 16:30

Nuala Watt stays in Glasgow. She has an M.Litt in Creative Writing from the University of St Andrews. Her work has appeared in Magma and also on The Verb, BBC Radio 3.

Carla Sassi 16:30 - 17:00

Looking at Italy through Scottish eyes

Studying or reading the literature of another country is not only a way to discover or explore another culture, it is also a way to learn about your own country - to look at it with different eyes.

Saturday 27th November

...in the FILM AND LECTURE THEATRE

Art Extraordinaire 14:00 - 14:30

"Chemo" a fantastic film about outsider art - directed by Antoine de Maximy.

"Francis Marshall" "Arthur Vanabelle" "Poétique mécanique manège de Petit Pierre et la Fabuloserie" and "le jardin de Bepi, Joseph Donadello" - directed by Jean Michel Zazzi.

...and others short films in English of different outsider artists from all over the world (Canada and Japan) ABCD Collection.

Gordon McInnes 14:30 - 14:40

Gordon McInnes is a Glaswegian poet that grew up in North East England. A former 'Clydebuilt' mentee, he is an active reader of his work and his pamphlet "Sand & Scar" is available from Vision Street Press. He hopes his second pamphlet "Shadowist" will be published next year.

Eveline Pye 14:40 - 14:50

Eveline Pye is a mathematician and a statistician as well as a psychologist and a poet. She is currently an academic although the first part of her working life was spent in the Copper Mines of Zambia. She has published poems in many UK magazines and is currently working on a collection describing her life in Zambia.

Billy Bonnar 14:50 - 15:00

William Gault Bonnar grew up in Port Glasgow and now lives in Glasgow. He founded Dreadful Night Press in 2004 and his first pamphlet Frostburn Steel appeared in the same year. He was a recent mentee in Clydebuilt 3

Philippe Muller and Vincent Vernillat 15:00 - 15:30

Readings of poems written by Nicolas Dieterle from " l'Aile pourpre", " Ici pépie le Coeur de l'oiseau-mouche" Editions Arfuyen.

The choice of this author is relevant as the bookshop in Halle Saint Pierre museum has a section of poetry and literature dedicated to unknown or forgotten writers.

Janet Paisley 15:30 - 16:00

Is an award winning poet, Author, playwright, non-fiction and scriptwriter, writing in Scots and English. A prolific and popular writer, first published in 1979, awards include BAFTA and RTS nominations for Long Haul. A Creative Scotland award to write Not for Glory.

Alasdair Grey 16:00 - 16:30

Alasdair will be reading from a selection of his own work. His work combines elements of realism, fantasy and science fiction. Author Will Self has described Alasdair as a great writer perhaps the greatest living in this archipelago today.

James McGonigal 16:30 - 17:00

James was a lifelong friend of Edwin Morgan and will be reading from his newly published book, Beyond the Last Dragon published by Sandstone press. The book was written with the Poet's active encouragement, draws on new archive findings and regular conversations with him over the last ten years.